PYTHIAN DAY NOTES.

She's a dear little, Sweet little, Bright little town; For taste and for beauty She takes the crown, And all good folks From hither and yon, Find warmth and plenty In Our Wauseon.

Did you see the goat? Ever hear of Wauseon? "Its Your Town."

Fine crowd of fine fellows, hope they will come again!

They say Luther Shadle is the champion potato peeler.

Dimke and Hatt are sure some hustlers when it comes to "calling out the colors."

Did you see W. J. Harper in action? He sure can make the wheels go round.

O you reception committee! Where were you when the lights went out? And where were you?

Five hundred and ten Knights of Pythias were counted in the Monitor Pythian Parade Wednesday evening; two hundred of them were Wauseon Knights.

Here to the men who believe in and practice Friendship, Charity and Benevolence! They are working to win the admiration and hearty approval of every Wauseon Knight as well as of the visitors.

Our hats are off to Messrs. Smallman, Harris, Campbell, Goff and the long list of other fellows who helped them carry out the plans that made May 24th a day long to be remembered in Wauseon.

When it comes to the ladies of Wauseon Temple, Pythian Sisters, not only are our hats off but we are down on our knees in appreciation. Never before in the Annals of Our Town has so large a crowd of people been served so easily and promptly with so delicious a meal as were the 725 who were fed in Castle Hall, on May 24th.

Bowling Green Lodge Knights of Pythias met over one hundred of their members to Wauseon last Wednesday. The work of their Third Rank Team and the splendid drill given by their Blue, Yellow and Red teams won the admiration and hearty applause of every Wauseon Knight as well as of the visitors.

Grand Chancellor Schuchardt struck a key note when he said that if the Order of Knights of Pythias existed in the United States it would be a European war. The spirit of fraternity that is engendered by realization of the Divine Fatherhood makes wars that have their origin in the caprice or greed or desire for fame of a handful of men impossible.

PROVIDE NOW FOR THE 1917 CROP OF APPLES. Exceptionally favorable conditions in 1915 for the development of fruit buds on apple trees in this section have led to a danger to many orchards this year, particularly in southern Ohio, says Prof. A. D. Selby in the May Monthly Bulletin of the Ohio Experiment Station.

As a safeguard here, urges early provision of the moisture and food supply of the trees for future apple crops.

Moderate rainfall in late May and liberal rains in June, 1915, caused an unusual development of fruit buds, which will produce this year's apple crop. The buds for the 1917 crop are now forming, and this time the trees require an abundance of plant food moisture. Proper care of the orchard is more important this year because of excessive blooming and a possible drought such as often occurs in southern Ohio.

Conserving the moisture in late May and early June, says Prof. Selby, offers a means of providing for the fruit-bud development for the 1917 apple crop. To this end he advises for orchards that are in grass, early application of fertilizers and mulches about the trees, and early cutting of any cover crops. Thinning the fruit he says will not take the place of such practices.

THE GRAPE-BERRY WORM: A NEW VINEYARD PEST. One of the most serious pests of the grape industry in Ohio within recent years is the grape-berry worm, a small insect that bores into the young grapes and causes them to be worthless for marketing. Entomologists at the Ohio Experiment Station have been studying this moth since 1906 in the Lake Erie section, and have just published in Bulletin 293 the results of their investigations in controlling it.

The two broods of the moth are easily controlled by proper spray measures. In some cases large vineyards have been so infested with the pest that the drops were not worth picking. In others where the owners sprayed the vines carefully less than one per cent of the crop was injured.

The first spray is applied when the grapes are about one-eighth of an inch in diameter. Four pounds of arsenate of lead paste is used with the 2-4-10 mixture of Bordeaux mixture and two pounds of dissolved soap as a sticker. About six weeks later, or August 3 to 12, the same mixture is again applied to kill the second brood. The spray is most preferable to machine application. The experiment Station experts say that spraying at other times have failed to control the grape-berry worm in Ohio.

We will have all kinds of flowers for Decoration Day that are on the market, roses, carnations, lilies, callas, sweet peas, daisies, peonies, daffodils, swansons, etc. The greatest scarcity is our carnations, but we will take care of all orders received in time.

"Tired Tires"

Sometimes your tires get "tired" and you may think they are good only for the junk heap, but you would say for yourself a lot of money if you would bring these "tired" tires to us and let us "tire" them. You bring us two tires, we repair and vulcanize where necessary, then we remove the rim from the tire having the best tread and stretch this tread over the other tire making a double tread of rubber and fabric that is positively puncture proof, or you bring us one tire that is badly worn and we will furnish a new tread or "re-tread" which accomplishes the same result as in the first method. The "tired" tire is retired; we double sew the tread and tire together on a powerful electric machine using double waxed linen thread which we guarantee never to rip.

By this process you can get from 3000 to 4000 miles from tires that you consider junk. One man said he had driven a DOUBLE TREAD TIRE over 5000 miles and was still using it.

WAUSEON BEAUTY CONTEST

Get Into the Contest—Five More Days Before the Close—Twenty-one Prizes to be Awarded.

This is the last call for entries in the Wauseon Beauty Contest. The entries close on Wednesday May 31st. Many have given the help of their names to influence to the cause to make Wauseon more beautiful and many are at work on lawns, gardens, boulevards and buildings, fixing up and making beautiful front yards and side yards and back yards. All working together will make our town the pride of every resident and the object of admiration of all those who pass through it or visit it. Let it be said of Wauseon that it is one town in Ohio that has no disreputable back streets or alleys. One excellent way to help is to enter the contest and so encourage others to do the same; all together we may accomplish great things along this line. Twenty-one prizes will be awarded and a list of these prizes will be published in the near future.

It costs nothing to enter the contest and there is nothing to lose and much to win. If you fail to gain a prize you will at least win something that will bring you pleasure and satisfaction. Sign the coupon and send it in today.

Wauseon Beauty Contest

To The Improvement Committee of Wauseon:

Desiring to help make our town more beautiful, I hereby enter as a contestant in the home and grounds improvement contest.

THRIVING SALT INDUSTRY IN NORTHWESTERN OHIO

About 1886 a deep well was drilled at Newburg, now a part of Cleveland, for natural gas for use in steel making. The well was drilled to a depth of 1,900 feet a thick bed of rock-salt was encountered and three additional beds were found at depths of 2,300, 2,400 and 2,470 feet. So far as is known this was the first time rock-salt was penetrated in Ohio and its discovery led to the development of two industries for the northeastern part of the State—the manufacture of salt and soda-ash.

Since 1886 many deep wells have been sunk for oil or gas in that section of Ohio and since a large number of these passed through the salt-bearing horizon, knowledge of the salt deposits has been greatly extended.

They underlie part at least of Ash-tabula, Trumbull, Lake, Geauga, Cuyahoga, Medina, Wayne, and Lorain counties. The salt beds vary in thickness and number. Thus the Newburg well showed four layers which ranged from five to at least 50 feet in thickness, but other wells have shown only one or two layers and in places none at all. From this it appears that the salt beds are not persistent but thin lenses which may have considerable length in short distances.

The quantity of salt contained in this section of our State is indeed very large and will last indefinitely, says Prof. John A. Brynmor of the department of geology, Ohio State University.

At the present time salt furnaces which rely entirely on rock-salt are located at Cleveland, Kenmore near Akron, Rittman, and Wadsworth. In 1914 Ohio produced about 5,500,000 barrels of salt and ranked third in this industry. Much the larger part came from the northern section of the State.

What Happiness Is. Learn what happiness is. Study a little about good taste. If everybody had good taste everybody would have his share of joys. You see I do not say everybody would be happy. That would be a foolish word and a selfish one, but I say everyone would have his share of joys, and having claimed his birthright to his share of joys he surely would be a pig to want them all! The joy of making a poor home happy is greater than that of being content in a fine one—and sometimes easier. We who have little of this world's goods stand a glorious chance of having much of the spirit which stands ever ready to come in and fill up the waste places if only we will open the door.—Exchange.

OVER IN NAPOLEON. The Chamber of Commerce are getting behind one of the Napoleon Industries, the Napoleon Automobile Company, by requesting the business men of the town to use a cut of the "Napoleon" car on their stationery. The Dayton business men will visit the Napoleon business men on June 7, they will be entertained by an auto ride over the city.

Napoleon is about to lose one of its industries. The Dourty Handle Factory will remove to Montpelier on account of scarcity of lumber.

Last Tuesday Bishop Schrems of Toledo accompanied by six members of the priesthood, conferred a large class and inspected the church building and other church property.

I wish to call the attention of prospective buggy buyers to the fact that I am prepared to show the finest and most up-to-date lot of buggies ever brought to Fulton County. These goods are bought for spot cash in car load lots thus enabling me to sell as low as the lowest. I will not be undersold by any class of goods. Call on me before you buy.

NEW DEPOSITS ARE GREAT OHIO ASSET

Ancient Life of Seas Comes to Aid of Depleted Soils.

(By G. J. Wilder.)

Farming with lime has aided many to emerge from the darkness to the light. It has aided nature to set forth her best—for in the lime deposits we have stored up today the life of the seas of many years ago. These deposits are of organic origin and when placed upon the fields give results which are almost unbelievable.

The best crops to be found growing throughout Ohio today are in those counties where the farms are well supplied with lime. Many farmers have thought that it was unnecessary to lime if their soils were underlaid with limestone, but that depends largely upon whether or not there is any lime left in the upper six or eight inches of soil.

Farming with lime has aided many to emerge from the darkness to the light. It has aided nature to set forth her best—for in the lime deposits we have stored up today the life of the seas of many years ago. These deposits are of organic origin and when placed upon the fields give results which are almost unbelievable.

The best crops to be found growing throughout Ohio today are in those counties where the farms are well supplied with lime. Many farmers have thought that it was unnecessary to lime if their soils were underlaid with limestone, but that depends largely upon whether or not there is any lime left in the upper six or eight inches of soil.

During the past week the writer has had occasion to visit several farms which are near to the limestone quarries, and upon special investigation has found that the yield and the quality of grain has been materially increased by an application of two to four tons per acre.

The wheat stands up better upon these plots—the straw seems to have stiffness and the grain is well matured. It will all be harvested and will give a yield equal to the best upon any of our Ohio farms.

The country and the markets are growing. People are beginning to realize that all wealth starts from the soil, and the soil is receiving more attention today than it has ever received before.

Experiment stations and agricultural colleges have predicted a great future for the use of lime and ground limestone upon thousands of farms throughout the corn belt, and the day has long since passed that the farmer is not well versed upon the financial benefits to be derived, for he realizes that he must feed the world. And in order to do this he must help the land help itself.
